

Another Friend

Ben Hammond

looking up at green stone queen you turned, we cried and left crying never feels as good when you're alone if there's something you've been hiding something you've been hiding you were probably talking at me you used to act so happy and then those gray clouds came up under your eyes is there something you've been hiding something you've been hiding just another friend i didn't know i didn't have it's just another friend i didn't know if these walls could talk if we had ears to listen they'd probably tell you why you feel alone cause there's something you've been hiding something you've been hiding chorus why didn't i go? why didn't i go?
why'd we have to cry alone? it's just another friend

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>