

Hazel

Bob Dylan

Hazel, dirty-blond hair
I wouldn't be ashamed to be seen with you anywhere
You got something I want plenty of Ooh, a little touch of your loveHazel, stardust in your eye
You're goin' somewhere and so am I
I'd give you the sky high above
Ooh, for a little touch of your loveOh no, I don't need any reminder
To know how much I really care
But it's just making me blinder and blinder
Because I'm up on a hill and still you're not thereHazel, you called and I came
Now don't make me play this waiting game
You've got something I want plenty of Ooh, a little touch of your love
