Like the Angel

Rise Against

They turn the lights down low
In shadows hiding from the world
Only coming out when it gets cold
The seas part when they hit the floor
The voices carry on and out the door
Everything you touch turns into goldLike the angel you are you laugh
Creating a lightness in my chest
Your eyes, they penetrate me
(Your answer's always "Maybe")
That's when I got up and leftA beating heart and a microphone
A ticking clock in an empty home
Still tells of these times so long ago
And even though I've come so far
I know, I've got so far to go
And any day now I'll explodeLike the angel you are left
Creating a lightness in my chest
Your eyes they penetrate me
(Your answer's always "Maybe")
That's when I got up and leftAnd each and everyday
Will lead into tomorrow
Tomorrow brings one less day without you
But don't wait up just leave the light on
'Cause all the roads that I might take
Will all one day lead back to youAnd like the angel you are left
Creating a lightness in my chest
Your eyes they penetrate me
(Yeah, this is too amazing)
That's when I got up and left
