Driving Me Wild (Johnson Somerset Remix)

Bryan Ferry

My heart is pounding
I'm trembling with rage I'm wrestling with my demons on every pageCan't read that label I can't make it out It's a world of confusion that I'm talking aboutYou're driving me wild,
you're driving me wild,
you're driving me wild,
You're driving me wild,
you're driving me wild,
you're driving me wild.It's tearing me apart How can I escape the shape I'm in No dream will ever be the same Everything around calls your nameI'm dealing with a feeling Like nobody knows an unkindness of ravens
A murder of crowsOut in the cold I'm feeling so bad Can't stop thinking about you and times we hadYou're driving me wild...Don't leave me in despair Listen to my plea
Just one more time
I know that love can be unfair
Wandering on my own, one of a kindI keep on blaming myself
I'm a wise guy why do I end up on the shelf
A man with a mission, a dog with a bone
I type with one finger, destination unknownYou're driving me wild...
