Element Eighty

Overwhelming
I am failing
You tell me it's everything i wanted
So i'm taking it over
Won't you tell me what this means if i'm right
Some kind of distance between the lines
It's getting harder for me to control this
I will never give up what i started
But i'm losing everything i wanted
So i'm taking it over
Won't you tell me what this means if i'm right
Some kind of distance between the lines
It's getting harder for me to control this
But i won't let go

What do you think of me now that i have spoken out against you
Resist.resist
Resist.resist
It's getting harder for me to control this
But i won't let go
What do you think of me now that i have spoken out against you
Now tell me what do you think of me now that i have spoken out against you
I have taken over
I will never trust you
Don't tell me it's everything i wanted cause i've taking it over
Won't you tell me what this means if i'm right
Some kind of distance between the lines
It's getting harder for me to control this
But i won't let go
