

Honeymooning Alone

Bat for Lashes

Walking out, walking out in this cold winter light
All the pretty girls, all the pretty ones have tears in their eyes
And I can't because I don't have you here by my side
And I'll always be, I'll always be the girl that was denied
Driving my car in the night
(Honeymooning alone)
The cans on the road in daylight
(Honeymooning alone)
And your empty seat by my side
(Honeymooning alone)
If I drive far enough will I find my love? My love, my love
My love, my love I'm crying now, crying as the stars fail to shine
I'm punning now, punning for your warmth and your smile
And I waited all, I waited all my life for this night
But there's no moon, the moon is to doubt all their lies
Driving my car in the night
(Honeymooning alone)
The cans on the road in daylight
(Honeymooning alone)
And your empty seat by my side
(Honeymooning alone)
If I drive far enough will I find my love? My love, my love
My love, my love
My love, my love
My love, my love My love
My love
