

A handful of Soul

Mario Biondi

Got no money but I got something going
Ain't so wise but I know something worth knowing
A fist full of dollars don't make a man a man
It's something more precious than your gold
A man has got the world in his hands with his hand full of soul
So, it's rather like a fourth dimension
It's your hart, your mind, your worlds ease and then some
Some giving some taking even some aching
It's luck running hot or running cold
So live it and see what you got with a handful of soul
If you really have to ask, you don't know what soul is Cause the receipt is older than old is, oh yes it is
Some giving some taking even some aching
It's luck running hot or running cold
live it and see what you got with a handful of soul
I keep telling you I ain't got no money but I got something going
Ain't so wise but I know something worth knowing
A fist full of dollars don't make a man a man
It's something more precious than your gold
A man has got the world in his hands with his hand full of soul
