Another Fine Day

Golden Smog

Too bad you got a chip on your shoulder
You've broken the hate, it's never too late
Turn 'round, you're just another year older
Still ready to fight, then lose on your sideCan't find your direction
Another fine day, another fine day
Can't find your direction
Another fine day, another fine dayWho put one foot in front of the other
Drift through the maze of golden haze
Sweating birds are darting down in anger
Block now, cries the painCan't find your direction
Another fine day, another fine day
Can't find your direction
Another fine day, another fine dayDon't drown yourself in the sorrow
You had a fall from graceAnother fine day, another fine day
Another fine day, another fine day
Can't find your direction
Another fine day, another fine day
