For Desire

CARMODY

This is for desire she said as she lay waiting for you in her bed she just wants to feel the edges of herself be reminded the weight of you felt like no one else

And it's not love we lost we just forget to nurture its cause and I've been waiting on you to make us feel brand new

She said this is for the words I forget to say I love you most of the minutes of most of my days but sometimes we step out of line I miss the beat of your pulse by mine

And it's not love we lost
to make us feel brand new

Please don't wait till we're strangers in our bed till your loving someone else instead

And it's not love we lost
