

World of Sacrifice

Black Veil Brides

We're faithful broken promises of the lies
The virtues beaten down into your empty eyes
A saint is not a weapon, it's a message, a message
A sermon of shame, a demon that you want to blame
Sell you, change you, leave you in a world of flames
Pain is not a blessing, it's a lesson, a lesson
Don't bow down to a world of hate
From your cradle to the grave
Cause even if you sacrifice beliefs to get through
And even if you take the side of lies over truth
Everyday the world will take what you give in to
So hold on to every breath of life in a world of sacrifice
A personal slave the one you left to die in vain
Sold you, changed you, taught you all their selfish ways
Faith becomes an addiction not ambition, ambition
Don't bow down to a world of hate
From your cradle to the grave
Even if you sacrifice beliefs to get through
And even if you take the side of lies over truth
Everyday the world will take, what you give in to
So hold on to every breath of life in a world of sacrifice
Hold on, in a world of sacrifice
Hold on, until your last breath is gone
Hold on, until your last breath is gone
