Sacrifice

Diecast

Tear away from my life force
Torn away from my existence
Take me away from all reason
Tearing away
How does a soul solidify, and create destination
With ecstasy comes agony how do I find a balance
Must, must decide, must decide, sacrifice
Emotions set on high, living and dying by the sword weight of risk is great,I am ready for the passing
Turn the key, push the gate
Step by step, inch by inch
Now is the time, my day is near Encompassing my inner fabric
Taking shape, will I approve of my current evolution
It takes two halves to make a whole
How can I be complete if I'm hollow
I must expand my life, for this I give my sacrifice
Can I travel this path alone...
No...
Travel this path alone
Counting down all my days, until my future does unfold
Will you on, on to me, or just let go
Tear away from my life force
Tear away from my exisitence
Ripping away from my lifeforce
Tearing away
Know where my faith exists, undying and forever
Believe the words I script, invest all of your worth
Strengthen your sanity, it will reward in due time
In due time
Why?
