Get Some

Good Old War

Even your losses can count for anything
Paid in your crosses to look like other things
All of your best thoughts can't seem to find a home
It's harder to fight them when you can't get one aloneIt's something on your mind won't let them be
You feel it inside, you're not that freeEven salvation can cost your everything
When all your temptations just leave you settlingIt's something on your mind won't let them be
You feel it inside, you're not that free[Guitar]It's something on your mind won't let them be
You feel it inside, you're not... that freeAaahhh
