

Daddy What If

Bobby Bare

Daddy what if the sun stop shining, what would happen then If the sun would stop shining, you'd be so surprised You'd stare at the heavens with wide open eyes and the wind would carry your light to the skies and the sun would start shining again

But daddy what if the wind stop blowing, what would happen then if the wind stop blowing then the land would be dry and your boat wouldn't sail and son and your kite wouldn't fly and the grass would see trouble and she'd tell the wind and the wind would start blowing again

But daddy what if grass stopped growing, what would happen then well if the grass stop growing, you'd probably cry and the ground would be watered by the tears from your eyes and like your love for me the grass would grow so high the grass would start growing again

But daddy what if I stopped loving you, what would happen then if you stop loving me then the grass would stop growing the sun would stop shining and the wind would stop blowing so you see, if you want to keep this whole world going

You better start loving me again, again You better start loving me again you hear me bobby, Yep
You better start loving me again

Lyrics submitted by Marcia.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>