

She's Got the Rain

Fastball

I never told you the truth
Holding your hand at the end of the rainbow
Left you with nothing to lose I can't cry anymore
I can't cry anymore I used to be bulletproof
I used to wear my hat like a halo
There's too many holes in my roof I can't cry anymore
I can't cry anymore She's got the rain, she's got the rain
When she's not around
Sunshine brings me down I used to be so aloof
Whirling around like an angry tornado
Faced with the burden of proof I can't lie anymore
I can't lie anymore She's got the rain, she's got the rain
And when she's not around
The sunshine brings me down She sits alone in her room
She won't let me in and I worry about her
I hope that she's coming out soon I can't cry anymore
I can't cry anymore She's got the rain, she's got the rain
When she's not around
The sunshine, the sunshine brings me down
