Day in and day out, you're moving
You are standing head in the clouds
Acting without emotion, you're waiting
You' re saving, holding all backHating life for the weather
On a weekend, free chosen feelings
Are raining back down on you
Your cage is too small for youHere comes the army of light
Open your heart, there will be no fight
The sword is the word which brings you the truth
The flame is the light inside your eyesHere comes the army of light
Open your mind, there is the fight
The sword is the word, revealing the truth
The pain comes from the lies, you hide insideDay in and day out, you're moving
You are standing head in the clouds
Acting without emotion, you're waiting
You' re saving, holding all backHating life for the weather
