No Time

Colin Hay

No time to live, no time to die, no time to sit and wonder why.
No time for you, no time for I, no time to watch the world go by.And I've got no time for sorrow.
And I've got no time to cry.
And I've got no time for tomorrow.
I've got no time . . .No time for her, no time for him, no time to let the sunshine in.
No time to love, no time to hate, no time to sleep or stay up late.
No time to rise, no time to fall, no time to see or do it all.
No time to give, no time to take, time is just one big mistake.And I've got no time to borrow
And I can't procrastinate
And I've got no time to follow
I've got no time . . . to read between the lines
to see what I could find, or shed a tear.No time to laugh, no time to sing, no time for much of anything
No time to fear, no time to fight, no time to ever see the lightAnd I've got no time for sorrow.
And I've got no time to cry.
And I've got no time for tomorrow.
I've got no time . . . to read between the lines
to see what I could find, or shed a tear.
