

In a Sweet Dream

Strata

You probably wish you were anywhere but here
Remember this now 'cos it soon will disappear
You'll find yourself wishing, you're anyone but you
I'm starting to wish I were anyone but me
And I will be broken by this As soon as you wake you will find me on my way
And soon when it's safe you may find a love again
And I will be broken by this, sweet dream But it's all I have, seems that it, oh it
Always bleeds like this, when nothing's wrong
But nothing feels right You're knocked down and dying
You'll stand right back up
And you'll fall all alone, all in this
Sweet dream, it's all I have
A sweet dream, it's all I have
