

4AM (Kyotis Remix)

HUNTAR

[Verse 1]

What I've been trying to do is tell you
I'm still scared
All I've been trying to hide is just how much
I care
There's reasons for breaking our ties
And for telling you lies
I confess
What I've been trying to say is how I'm such a mess
I'll be your favourite worst mistake
I'll be a memory
I'll be a ghost
You'll be a night to fill the space
You'll be a moment
But then I'll go [Chorus]
When it's 4AM
In the morning
I've been thinking about my past again and
You should know, I don't want your love
Never have, never will
When it's 4AM
And I call you
You can tell that I've been drinking when I say
You should come, take it off, all off
Help me get over her
You should know, I don't want, your love
Never have, never will

[Verse 2]

How can I hold you so close
When I'm thinking of somebody else?
How can I treat you so right
When I know that you're only the help?
The reason your here
Is to deal with my fear
I hate being alone
How can I do this to you
Yet you still always answer the phone? [Chorus]
When it's 4AM
In the morning

I've been thinking about my past again and
You should know, I don't want your love
Never have, never will
When it's 4AM
And I call you
You can tell that I've been drinking when I say
You should come, take it off, all off
Help me get over her
You should know, I don't want, your love
Never have, never will[Bridge]
I'll be your favorite worst mistake
You'll be a night to fill the space
