Why Is He Right? (Album Version)

Punchline

Why is he right when I say goodnight and to you and you're never thereI'm awake I'm awake I'm awake now
Gotta get back to sleep now somehow
If I lay on my side with my pillow
Maybe you'll fly into my windowWhy is he right when I say goodnight to you and you're never there
If you're not too busy tonight
Could you come visit me and my closed eyes?
Please don't leave before we've once realized
This could be a big mistake
If I haven't already made it
Do you think he could take it?It's getting late I hesitate to even try now
It's worth it even if I'm tired tomorrow
Before the sun comes up today I'm sure I'll be awakeWhy is he right when I say goodnight to you and you're never there
If you're not too busy tonight
Could you come visit me and my closed eyes?
Please don't leave before we've once realized
Or I smile and awake
Cause that would be a big mistake
If I haven't already made it
Do you think he could take it?There's nothing between our eyes
This could be real
It's our surprise
If I wake up next up to you woah to you
I hope you're there
