

Confusion

Pennywise

I can't believe what I have found
The world has been turned upside down
Everything you thought you knew was true
Is exactly the opposite point of view
Take this confusion all away
We need the answers here today
Unanswered questions all around
No conclusions for us now
No resistance can undo
The lies fed to you
Through and through
So take your pabulum and be done
It's all the same for everyone
Sometimes I wish I'd never met you
So many times tried to forget you
Tried hard but things won't change
