Lies

Godhead

I can stand although my bones are breaking
Prop me up and see my soul is aching
Take the dirt upon the ground around me
Bury me inside the grave I built for youWalk into the room - Feel my stare of doom
Scars that line my face - Lies cannot replaceI can see through you
And I'll tell youAll my life I've heard a thousand lies
Seen myself through someone else's eyesKill you with my words - Get what you deserveI can see through you
And I'll tell youAll my life I've heard a thousand lies
Seen myself through someone else's eyesRemember what you did to me?
For you know I won't forget
Now you've broken everything
Is your heart filled with regret?All my life I've heard a thousand lies
Seen myself through someone else's eyes
All my life I've heard a thousand lies
Seen myself through someone else's eyesRemember what you did to me?
For you know I won't forget
