

House & Home

Gates

Out of the corner of my favorite street
Is a house and home crumbled down to my feet
The window I prayed I'd look out of someday
Broken like my dream and the glass swept away
And I'll remember it all of my life
But I'll never know what was inside (2x)
With wonder I wandered amongst the debris
And imagined the moments that had yet to be Like watching the wallpaper fall from the wall
And the quaint conversations we'd have in the hall
I cried in the silence of words never formed
From the mouth of a child that wouldn't be born
Then walked through the doorway and out on my own
To a house on a street that would never be home
And I'll remember it all of my life
But I'll never know what was inside (2x)
I'll remember you all of my life
I'll never know what's inside
