One More Hell

Hailey Whitters

Talkin' to your grave Makes me, unafraid to die, then I take a breath, and I'm glad to be alive

I've heard, that with time, the pain will go away;
and my tears will all dry up and I'll smile when I hear your name

(bridge)
Momma's not right, and Daddy's still mad he wants to kick god's ass
'cuz he says that it ain't right, he took you so fast;
as for the rest of us, we're doin' the best we can, there's only so much you can figure out when you're tryin' to understand

(chorus)
and if heavens like they say it is save me a seat
I can't wait to hear your laugh
and have you next to me if I had a super power, I know what I would do,
I'd forget about the hell to pay and raise one more hell with you.

Well ever since we were kids, we've been up to no good; we got a reputation, for not doin' the things we should like the time we took our trucks, and tore up the neighbor's farm we were always causin' trouble never meant to cause no harm

(chorus)
and if heavens like they say it is

save me a seat
I can't wait to hear your laugh
and have you next to me
if I had a super power,
I know what I would do,
I'd forget about the hell to pay
and raise one more hell with you.

Well I talk about you a little but I think about you a lot, I'd kill for another memory, but I'm thankful for the ones I've got.

(chorus)
and if heavens like they say it is
save me a seat
I can't wait to hear your laugh
and have you next to me
if I had a super power,
I know what I would do,
I'd forget about the hell to pay
and raise one more hell with you.

I'd forget about the hell to pay
and raise one more hell with you.

Lyrics Submitted by megan corbett Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/