

Reminisce

Olivia Jean

Look at the mess in the pretty dress

And do your best to reminisce

Focus!

Just watch her stumble through the rain

She'll never be the same again Oh well, she was looking for an easy fix

And somehow she fit you in the mix

It won't be long until the crash

Look how she's poundin' on the glass Bye, now. You'd think she'd figure it out

Grab her wrist, and twist and shout

'Cause you can not help but doubt

She cries, "This time! I'm fine this time! I swear!" She's tryin' to hide; it's too late (Still you wait!)

You're watchin' from far when you can do nothin' at all

'Cause you can't find the reason why

These tears are falling from her eyes Pray for the damsel in despair

And do your best not to stop and stare

Focus!

She's far too gone to understand

She's guided by the devil's hand. Bye, now. You'd think she'd figure it out

Grab her wrist, and twist and shout

'Cause you can not help but doubt

She cries, "This time! I'm fine this time! I swear!" She's tryin' to hide; it's too late (Still you wait!)

You're watchin' from far when you can do nothin' at all

'Cause you can't find the reason why

These tears are falling from her eyes
