

Skyline Dream

The Blue Dogs

had a dream that i was flyin' through the skyline of the city and i could see all the buildings and the nameless people there and so it seems as i'm flyin lonely through the darkness but in my dreams you light the way and the skyline disappears i can see a brand new sunset brightening my horizon i say farewell to the city and the skyline of my home you're with me and in my mind you're lighting my direction you know so well that when my journey's over i'll be home and it's you that takes me from the haze of a skyline burning the things you do remind me of the reasons i'm returning from a maze of nameless cities and a road too long it seems where i'm yearning to awaken from this endless skyline dream there comes a time when the skyline becomes a distant vision show me a sign we must follow directions of our dreams and you are fine with this skyline dream that i am living and you are mind and that's the only thing that keeps me strong it seems miles ahead in the distance another city in this dream on a barren plain of circumstance and a road too long it seems a candle burns behind me the flame flickers and it breathes it's burning to remind me that my soul can escape this skyline dream and it's you that takes me from the haze of a skyline burning
the things you do
remind me of the reasons i'm returning from a maze of nameless cities and a road to long it seems where i'm yearning to awaken from this endless skyline dream

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>