

The Story Left Untold

Every Avenue

Everything you own
in a suitcase by the door.
The words to keep you home are failing.
Everything we take out in anger,
eventually will break down to answers,
that are ringing in my head.
Slow down, take a deep breath.
We can't give up tonight. Is it right, to sit and watch this die?
We're slowly letting go, like it's better left alone.
So erase the damages we've made.
The story left untold is better than you know.
(Is better than you know) Of all the nights we spent wrapped in blankets.
The mattress on the floor, we're now home sacred.
You were my best friend.
Slow down, take a deep breath.
We can't give up tonight. Is it right, to sit and watch this die?
We're slowly letting go, like it's better left alone.
So erase the damages we've made.
The story left untold is better than you know. So much more to say. Suspended in the air between the truth is right in place, spilling over everything.
Before you slip away, before you slip away from me,
Slow down... Is it right, to sit and watch this die?
We're slowly letting go, like it's better left alone.
So erase the damages we've made.
The story left untold is better than you know.
Is it right, to sit and watch this die?
We're slowly letting go, like it's better left alone.
So erase the damages we've made.
The story left untold is better than you know
