Sevendust

Sickening, the things that I see
Can't stop my mind from slowly wandering
Dreamin' again, I think you're with me
But there is where the thinking ends Sleep time, no longer
Looks like it's over Took your wrist and cut it open
And now it seems I'm throwing you over the edge
We had a gift no one had
You never thought I'd be cutting you open again Sorry, the pain seems endless
Lie still, I'll soon be done with you
Till then, you're left to deal with torture
I'm sure, in time you've gotten used to it Constant controller
Your life is over
I'm takin' pride in my work as you bleed Took your wrist and cut it open
And now it seems I'm throwing you over the edge
We had a gift no one had
You never thought I'd be cutting you open again I'm left to deal with my conscience
Forgive me now
I have to finish the * I started
Not what I wanted Took your wrist and cut it open
And now it seems I'm throwing you over the edge
We had a gift no one had
You never thought I'd be cutting you open again Took your wrist and cut it open
And now it seems I'm throwing you over the edge
We had a gift no one had
You never thought I'd be cutting you open again
