Starting Over

Novice

It's been a long time since I've heard your voice
Can you hear
Speech equipped to judge
I've said a lot of things
But words don't flow through me like I'd like them to I'm on a search for forgiveness has been waiting
It's about time someone said something
To break the ice
Let's start this overIf I could change anything at all
I'd want you here with me tonight
I'd take back those things that I saidThings will never be the same
There's an uneasy silence
I've ruined a good thing
Just think back
Do you see us starting over?If I could change anything at all
I'd want you here with me tonight
I'd take back those things that I saidYou're not making things any easier
It's about time someone made an effort
In the end,
Lets see what happens
And in the end
Well, let's see what happensIf I could change anything at all
I'd want you here with me tonight
I'd take back those things that I said
