Starting Over

Prozzak

I was supposed to get
Get over you by now
It's been a year or so
And I just don't know howStill dealing with this pain
Still living on my own
Still looking back in vain
Still wondering where to goThings got so crazy then
I know I hurt you so
If I could turn the wheel
I'd go another roadYou changed your number now
You're just forever gone
No way to contact you
So I will sing this songAnd I won't mind
If you meet me on the other side
We could be closer than we think we are
To starting over again
To starting over againI know I really messed
I really messed you up
While you were looking down
Drank from another cupGot so wrapped up in me
That when I turned around
I let you slip away
I barely made a soundI hope you learn to give Give someone else a try
If I could go back there
I'd never say goodbyeAnd I won't mind
If you meet me on the other side
We could be closer than we think we are
To starting over againTo starting over again
To starting over again
To starting over again
To starting over againAnd I won't mind
If you meet me on the other side
We could be closer than we think we are
To starting over againTo starting over again
To starting over again
To starting over againTo starting over again
To starting over again
To starting over again

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/