Edge Of Thorns

Savatage

An offering of reasons
We put them all away
A covering of treasons
That one by one we let slip awayA solitary dancer so lost upon her stageI have seen you on the edge of dawn
Felt you there before you were born
Balanced your dreams upon the edge of thorns
But I don't think about you anymoreA study made of winter of summers long ago
And dreams that use to glitter
Safely now hidden under snowAnd so we end the chapter and let the stage lights fadeI have seen you on the edge of dawn
Felt you there before you were born
Balanced your dreams upon the edge of thorns
But I don't think about you anymoreI have seen you on the edge of dawn
Felt you there before you were born
Balanced your dreams upon the edge of thorns
But I don't think about you anymore, anymoreI don't think about you anymore, anymore
I don't think about you, I don't think about you
I don't think about you, I don't think about you anymore
Anymore, anymore, yeah
