No Secrets

Missing Persons

One look is worth a thousand words
Just one touch and you'll always be there
So good to know the doors are open
And we're both free to come and go, we have no secretsI see clearly through your eyes
I understand when I hear your voice
The walls that stood have now been broken
You look at me and we both know there are no secretsWe have no secrets, we are all as one
What we have between us is forever on and on
No secrets, we are as one
What we have between us is forever on and onOne look is worth a thousand words
Just one touch and you'll always be there
So good to know the doors are open
And we're both free to come and go, we have no secretsI see clearly through your eyes
I understand when I hear your voice
The walls that stood have now been broken
You look at me and we both know, no secrets, no, no secretsWe have no secrets, we are all as one
What we have between us is forever on and on
No secrets, we are as one
What we have between us is forever on and onOne look is worth a thousand words
One touch and you'll always be there
So good to know the doors are open
We're free, free to come and go
No secrets between us, no secrets at all
No secrets between us, no secrets at allThe walls that stood have now been broken
The walls that stood have now been broken
The walls that stood have now been broken
You look at me and we both know
No secrets, no secrets, no secrets, no secrets
