The Lonesome Road

Snooks Eaglin

When it's cold as a lizard's heart
When it's cold as a grave
When it's engine will never start
When it's as black as a caveYou can blame it on delivery
You can blame it on the stars
You can lay what you like on me
Damn your cold, dead heartThere'll always be that someone
That gets caught on the way
There'll always be that 2 or 3
Giving little love away
There'll always be that silence
Despite what you were told
There'll always be that guarantee
You'll get there, on the lonesome roadWhen it's over from the start
When it hangs by the nail
When it leaks like a murdered heart
When it's too sad a taleYou can blame the electricity
You can blame it on the guitars
You can run if you like from me
But you won't get farThere'll always be that someone
That gets caught on the way
There'll always be that 2 or 3
Giving little love away
There'll always be that silence
Despite what you were told
There'll always be that guarantee
You'll get there, on the lonesome road
