Thank You Ending

Number One Gun

They're so into themselves
People have ups and downs
It's not who they're against
It's who they're acting forIf you're so insecure
Then why didn't you lock the door
And why the hell did you ask
If I'm what heaven's hoping forTell me, maybe
What you want with the ending
Of this life soon you'll be
Something more
But you're so tired, of tryingI know it's not a lot
But I'll show you what I've got
It doesn't seem to take
Take away from what it's notI know I'll be there soon
You say that every time
Look what I'm up against
I won't forget about youTell me, maybe
What you want with the ending
Of this life soon you'll be
Something more
But you're so tired, of tryingYou hide in places all alone
You know it, you know it
You're bleeding face oh, how it shows
You show it, you show it
Go burn this down, go burn this down
Take your matches, burn this downTell me, maybe
What you want with the ending
Of this life soon you'll be
Something more
But you're so tired, of tryingSo help me, I'm trying
I'm not perfect, forgive me
All I want is, a beginning
Of something more
Than what I have, I'm trying

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/