

Take This Chance

Anastacia

[Anastacia]

I am not afraid to let go of what I had become
And everything that I knew before is setting with the sun
And no, it's not that hard to say goodbye
And now I know that it's okay to cry
You're my melody I hymn my nights
The songs we never sung I never thought in a million years that I could watch while I disappear
All of the sudden I see it clear what to do
I'm gonna take this chance and do something I never tried
I'm gonna make this moment matter till the end of time
And I made mistakes through all my life , and went to same place every time
I'm gonna take this chance and do something I never tried Now it's time to face the unknown,
My arms are opened wide
It took a lot of hard rain to grow, it's kinda string inside
So, open up the cage and set me free
I'm becoming who I'm meant to be, taller than the tallest tree to be I'mma be alright I'm tired of trying to take control, finally wanting of letting go
All of the sudden I see it clear what to do
I'm gonna take this chance and do something I never tried
I'm gonna make this moment matter till the end of time
And I made mistakes through all my life , and went to same place every time
I'm gonna take this chance and do something I never tried
