Steve Strongman

Waited all my life for this day to come

I feel like letting go, life goes on

Wasting no more time

So much to be done

Everything works out

So they say

Over my shoulder

It's tough getting older

Yeah, yeah

Seems like nothing is black and white anymore

Shades of grey and I feel a weight over my shoulder

It's tough getting older

I always thought that I knew where I'd want to go

Now I'm here and I find that I'm still getting colder

It's kinda tough getting older

Here before my eyes, many roads ahead

Time for me to choose one way now

If I take a chance, what lies down the road

Feeling so confused, turned round

On and on, on and on

Yeah, yeah

Seems like nothing is black and white anymore

Shades of grey and I feel a weight over my shoulder

It's tough getting older

I always thought that I knew where I'd want to go

Now I'm here and I find that I'm still getting colder

It's kinda tough getting older

Waited all my life for this day to come

I feel like letting go, life goes on

Over my shoulder, on and on

It's tough getting older, on and on, on

Yeah, yeah

Seems like nothing is black and white anymore

Shades of grey and I feel a weight over my shoulder

It's tough getting older

I always thought that I knew where I'd want to go

Now I'm here and I find that I'm still getting colder

It's kinda tough getting older
