No Man's Land

Kristina Train

Surfing channels to fool my feelings
They're still resisting those little dealings
Try to leave it, you keep on playing over again
These four walls share my conversation
I would tell someone but my voice keeps breaking
I'm so ashamed you're still living rent free in my brain, in my brain
I'm saying I can't move on stumbling around
Hanging on, we're going down no man's, no man's land.Keep your head up and watch the sunrise
Everybody has big advice for me
All I want to know is what the hell went wrong
Oh what went wrong?
I'm saying I can't move on stumbling around
Hanging on, we're going down no man's, no man's land.No man's, no man's land
But I will rise to start again
I have no doubt but I just don't know when
Sometimes love can change everything
But then again...
You see I can't move on stumbling around
Hanging on, we're going down no man's, no man's
I'm saying I can't move on stumbling around
Hanging on, we're going down no man's, no man's land.
No man's, no man's land.
