The Okee Dokee Brothers

A sugar maple sure sounds sweet
And a nest in an oak tree is hard to beat
An aspen branch makes a pretty perch
And I love to land in an old black birch
    But however much they lean
    They'll never come between
    Me and my forever and evergreen
I can stretch my wings in a mountain ash
    And sing my song from a sassafras
    Or fly to the top of a cottonwood
And weave through the willows all day if I could
