

Tearing

Rollins Band

The way you look at me
And the way I make you feel
Is tearing me apart
Is tearing you apart
Look at you and me, tearing each other apart
And the things we're doing to each other
I don't mean to do it
Is tearing us apart
So we better stop it now
Because we're tearing each other apart
You don't mean to do it
But it's harder to be with you It's hard to be alone
I'm a lying liar with my pants on fire
Tearing myself apart
Slamming down the phone right in your face
Tearing you apart
So close, too close, not close enough
When I see you
Tearing each other apart
I want to tell you
But then I lose the words
Better walk away
And it tears me apart Before we crawl away
I've got a hole inside
And I'm going to go inside
And I keep it deep inside
And it's there I'm going to hide
Sometimes things don't work out
Because I've got to get away
It tears you apart, it tears me apart
Sometimes happens all the time
To see if I'm ok
And I'm feeling torn apart
