Decade

Embodyment

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

In the right moment she feels him teething
Burn the pictures of days gone by
Trade this moment for passing pleasure
End the hour with even scoresIn the right moment the candles burning
Hide the question in one more thought
With submission you find devotion
Save my soul with sudden good-byesFallingIn the right moment the dial tone comforts
Find your peace beneath tainted sheets
Exchange values for self-indulgence
Cross your heart with fleeting dreamsFallingJudges feasting
On shame
Sever passions
On end
Children weeping
For one
Vacant, deniedIn the right moment the story's ending
Try your soul on another page
And time opens your best kept secrets
Plead the fifth now before you lieIn the right moment you play you
In the right moment you slay you
In the right moment you sell you
In the right moment I save you
A decade late
