Candid

Electrocutionerdz

This is the lazy quiz
And you got all the time there is
We'll spend some time on greed'n'wealth
And then some on mental-health...
No need to sweat or bite your lips..
No grand prize, cars or trips
It's knowin when to quit...
If it wasn't for me and the likes of me
And what I choose to do..
If you could tell, I'd like to know
Why you've become:
So candid unreserved'n'true
I'd rather you were I, than I were you
Candid
As if you held the truth
Sometimes honesty
Will kill the foolNow, my word no one relies on Never said a foolish thing..
Then again... never said a wise one
It's never what you think - it's knowing when to quit
