

Silent Death Curse

Enchiridion

Birds in the sky passing the field
hearing no whispers of hope the world goes down everything collapses mankind is forsaken Try your last chance or you'll die the curse is passing this field while you're starting to tremble the world looks like a battlefield everywhere corpses, he can't discribe they're caught in this fight and can not hide the sky is black and the wind is cold the fire burns and the world is destroyed all humans are dead and no sign of life is this the world you've ever wanted ? dead shadows embrace him and no savior alive everything's shattered since this massacre has been arrived It took his body it took his soul burnt him in flames of agony and pain the sky is black and the wind is cold the fire burns and the world destroyed
is this the world you've ever wanted ? breathtaking silence hearing their fear
unending violence
the end is coming near. breathtaking silence
hearing their fear
unending violence
don't want to die here. everything's ending no one is here a nightmare is born dead is coming near No chance to get free no chance to be saved they left their own families to save themselves in the end. the sky is black and the wind is cold
the fire burns and the world destroyed
is this the world you've ever wanted ?
