Something On My Mind

Hawk Nelson

Take the train, go separate ways
And leave it long forgotten
I'll hang my hat and I won't be back
On my way outI'm feeling lame, am I to blame?
Or am I just too jaded?
I won't be back
What'd ya think of that?When it feels like life's wastin' away
I can sayThat when there's something on my mind
It takes my concentration
Just wanna lay it on the line
Avoid all confrontationI'm gonna say this one more time
For all my generation
You'll never, ever pull my lever
Not today and not forever
(Not today and not forever)Take the fame and change my name
Because my jacket's faded
And I'll change my hat
No, we can't have that (You'll be looking at a brand new cat)It's all made up, I've had enough
Of this circulation
If you write me back
I'll tell you where it's atWhen it feels like life's wastin' away
I can sayThat when there's something on my mind
It takes my concentration
Just wanna lay it on the line
Avoid all confrontationI'm gonna say this one more time
For all my generation
You'll never, ever pull my lever
Not today and not foreverSomething on my mind
It takes my concentration
Just wanna lay it on the line
Avoid all confrontationI'm gonna say this one more time
For all my generation
You'll never, ever pull my lever
Not today and not forever
(Not today and not forever)Something on my mind
It takes my concentration
Just wanna lay it on the line
Avoid all confrontationI'm gonna say this one more time

For all my generation
You'll never, ever pull my lever
Not today and not foreverSomething on my mind
It takes my concentration
Just wanna lay it on the line
Avoid all confrontationI'm gonna say this one more time
For all my generation
You'll never, ever pull my lever
Not today and not forever

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/