

Strange Thing

Sophie B. Hawkins

In our lives love has hid her face to save her heart from breaking
 Into feeling
 In your eyes
 Joy gives way to pain
 Save your tears for the rain
 Visions stop at the ceiling
 Without each other
 What would we be
 We long to feel free
 And in our dreams
 We see

What we need I hardly recognize myself it's such a strange thing
 To find another woman walking in my blue jeans
 I've come so far and I've been so long away from home
 I'm like a photograph who's image is still changing
 The letter that I never sent to you explaining
 All I want is a place for my heart to belong In our minds
 We have weapons and cures for disease
 And a light year in the instant that it takes us to conceive
 Without each other
 Where will we go
 Someday we will know
 And if we want to

We will grow closer and closer together I hardly recognize myself it's such a strange thing...
 To find another woman walking in my blue jeans
 I've come so far and I've been so long away from home
 I'm like a photograph whose image is still changing
 The letter that I never sent to you explaining
 All I want is a place for my heart to belong
