

Sometimes

Black Stone Cherry

Couldn't We pretend that I am fine and this ain't my life, it is not the way it ends for me. Couldn't we pretend you are not gone, you are still here, its not true. It is not the way it ends for you. Oh Whoa Sometimes I cut myself on the fine line, between laughter and pain , cause it all feels the same for me. Sometimes I wish I could just rewind. I just through all the tears I still want you here with me. What if I was wrong, to think all this, could last.
It is just not meant to be What if I was right, would you come back, to night.
Just the way it was meant to be. Sometimes I cut myself on the fine line, between laughter and pain , cause it all feels the same for me. Sometimes I wish I could just rewind. I just through all the tears I still want you here. And since you been gone Ive been holding on, and I'M STILL TRYING to make all this right, I change my life I'll keep fighting. ~ Sometimes I cut myself on the fine line, between laughter and pain , it all feels the same for me. Sometimes I wish I could just rewind cause through all the tears I still want you here Sometimes I cut myself on the fine line, between laughter and pain , cause it all feels the same. Sometimes I wish I could just rewind cause through all the tears I still want you here
