Let Me Fall

Josh Gracin

I watched you wave goodbye
As you rolled down our drive
Without one single tear in your eyesI tried to be strong Forced a smile, said girl go on I'll be fine, don't you worry 'bout meBut it's sad, I was holdin' on And prayin' that you might see
I'm all you'll ever needAnd how do I hurt? And how do I cry
When so many times you let me down?
And where do I turn? And where do I hide
With all this emptiness inside?
Theres no use in lovin you at all, so let me fallI try to make it through the days
Of throwin all those things away
The ones that remind me of youSoon theyll be nothin left
But the bed where you laid your head
The one that I wake up in without youHow do I hurt? And how do I cry
When so many times you let me down?
And where do I turn? And where do I hide
With all this emptiness inside?
Theres no use in lovin you at all, so let me fallAnd how do I hurt? And how do I cry
When so many times you let me down?
And where do I turn? And where do I hide
With all this emptiness inside?
Theres no use in lovin you at all
Theres no use in lovin you at all
So let me fall, let me fall

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/