

Vicious Circle

Millencolin

I see the sunlight on your face
I see the darkness in your eyes
In my mind, that's lover's paradox I always try to give you space
No aim to cut you down to size
We got lost in our heart shaped box Should we try to have some kids
Or should we just go separate ways?
Or best yet, why don't we move abroad? Maybe Belgrade or Madrid
Where we can get out of this maze
It sounds like we're both confused and bored So tear me up and knock me down
Just like a vicious circle no one gets around
I messed you up to watch you frown
Just like a vicious circle no one gets around You know that I depend on you
You know that you depend on love
And then love, well, love depends on me From my subjective point of view
It never works like hand in glove
But still I, I hope you disagree So tear me up and knock me down
Just like a vicious circle no one gets around
I messed you up to watch you frown
Just like a vicious circle no one gets around And I'm tired of you being tired over me
Oh yeah, that's right
Sometimes I wish we just could let it be And I'm tired of me being tired over you
It's obvious, sometimes you wish you'd meet somebody new True... sometimes I wish that too It's like a vicious circle no one gets around
I messed you up to watch you frown
Just like a vicious circle no one gets around So tear me up and knock me down
Just like a vicious circle no one gets around
I messed you up to watch you frown
Just like a vicious circle no one gets around
No one gets around, no one gets around It's like a vicious circle no one gets around
So tear me up
Yeah, tear me up
It's like a vicious circle no one gets around
