Alone Again

Curt Cress

Alone again, alone again
I'm in the twilight zone again
Another lonely star crossed night
Shivered to the bone again
They never stay, they always leave
I wear my heart upon my sleeve
I won't say what I don't believe
I turn another heart to stone again
Alone again
Can't stop the rain
Alone again
Put out the flame
Betrayed again, unmade again
Out of the sun, into the shade again
The silent room, the unsung tune
All the old games must be played again
And all the words we could not say
And all the nights and all the days
We quarreled in the same old ways

And all the same mistakes were made again
Alone again
Despair and Pain
Alone again
Can't break the chain
Alone again, alone again
To sit beside the silent phone again
And all the words we spoke were knifes
And so I'm here on my own again
The days are dark and drowned in tears
I know the game the rules are clear
I walk alone through all my years
I know you never will come home again
Alone again
Shot through the heart
Alone again
Tear me apart..

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/