The Miner

Grace Potter

You got a hunger for my heart
You say there's diamonds in my eyes
And as I hold you in my arms
I let you bleed me dryI don't understand what you do
Why you hurt the one who loves you
I feel you mining in my bones, I feel you digging in my soulOh, oh, oh
Oh-oh, you're taking so much
I'm breaking down
So go on, keep taking more
Till everything is gone
You're breaking me down
You're breaking me downAnd you can see it in my eyes
I'm sleepless even in the dark
And my fingers trace the lines
Where I used to have a heartI don't understand what you do
Why you hurt the one who loves you
I feel you mining in my bones
I feel you digging in my soul
Oh, oh, ohAnd oh oh, you're taking so much
I'm breaking down
Go on, keep taking more
Till everything is gone
You're breaking me downOh, oh, you're taking so much
I'm breaking down
So go on, keep taking more
Till everything is gone
You're breaking me down
You're breaking me down
You're breaking me down
