Little Bird

Nowherebound

Little Bird

You healed the scars, this road had left me,
And you taught me how to cry.
Filled my arms when they had emptied,
And you taught me how to fly.

Said, little bird, donâ€™t you worry,
You can still fly on injured wings.
Little boy, ainâ€™t no hurry.
We got everything we need.
Cause if that rain comes down, Iâ€™ll catch you boy,
If the storm weighs down your wings.
And the last five words youâ€™ll hear me sing:
Come fly away with me.

Time had come, I had a last flight,
That I had to make alone.
Two months felt like a lifetime,
But your words carried me home.

So little bird, donâ€™t you worryâ€¦
I can still fly on injured wings
Little girl, ainâ€™t no hurry
We got everything we need
Cause if the rain comes down, Iâ€™ll catch you girl
If the storm weighs down your wings
And the last five words youâ€™ll hear me singâ€¦
Come fly away with me

I told you boy, we got forever at our feet.
We can dance the rain away, dear boy, just take a chance with me.
And that feeling while youâ€™re falling will forever lift you up.
And Iâ€™ll love you real til you say stop.

Baby bird, the worst is over.
So dry away those eyes.
Iâ€™ll carry you on tired shoulders.
And far away, weâ€™ll fly.

So little bird donâ€™t you worry,
We can sure fly on mended wings.
Little bird, ainâ€™t no hurry.
We got everything we need.
Cause when the sun comes out, Iâ€™ll watch you soar.
Let the wind carry your wings.
And those sweet last words will set us free:
Come fly away with me.

Lyrics Submitted by Charles Everson Crowe

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/