Bloodstained

Cholera

Pull those chains when you turn me out
Remind me what this life is all about
Because I haven't felt pain in so long I forgot I was alive
Sure in this life, the ironies can turn so cruel
Right now I'm at a loss to find one to match youWould you forgive me I'm gifted with this poison pen
Silently, lividly waiting, for the ever endThe sting from your faithless kiss still rings on my bloodless lips
If at any other time a love call you mine, come around and find some time
Sure in this life the ironies can turn so true
But the sin beneath my skin means it's more than likely not me but you
YouWould you forgive me I'm gifted with this poison pen?
Silently, lividly waiting, for the ever endNow won't you forgive me I'm gifted with this poison pen?
Silently, lividly waiting, for the ever endNow won't you forgive me I'm gifted with this poison pen?
Silently, lividly waiting, for the ever endWon't you forgive me?
Won't you forgive me?
Won't you forgive me?
Won't you forgive me?Poison pen lividly
Faithless kiss still rings on my bloodless lips
Poison pen lividly
Faithless kiss still rings on my bloodless lipsPoison pen lividly
Faithless kiss still rings on my bloodless lips
Poison pen lividly
Faithless kiss still rings on my bloodless lipsWon't you forgive me I'm gifted with this poison pen?
Silently, lividly waiting, for the ever endWon't you forgive me?
Could you forgive me?
